Instructions

1. In a medium saucepan set over medium heat, melt together olive oil/vegetable oil. Add rice and stir to coat with oil. Cook, stirring frequently, scraping the bottom of the pan, for about 2 to 3 minutes, until rice is toasted, lightly golden.

4. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil without lid on, stirring occasionally. Stir well. Once rice is boiling, stir in rinsed beans if using.

5. Bring back to a full boil, then reduce heat to low/min. COVER, reduce heat to low, place lid on pot, and cook at a gentle simmer for 20 minutes with a tightly fitted lid. (or whatever amount of time is directed on your bag of rice; see NOTES below).

6. Turn off stove, after 20 minutes, remove pot from heat, leave covered and allow rice to steam and rest for a 5-6 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, scraping the bottom of the pot so rice doesn't stick to the bottom and serve. NOTES: The amounts of liquid and the cooking time for this recipe should be considered guidelines. Follow the directions on your bag of rice to determine how much liquid to use (per 1 cup of rice) and how long to cook when you make your Spanish Rice. SOUCE: https://www.fivehearthome.com/easy
